Xeriscaping - EnviroWorks Lawn Care Xeriscape Benefits. Saves Water For most of North America, over 50% of residential water used is applied to landscape and lawns. Xeriscape can reduce landscape water use by 50 â€“ 75%. Less Maintenance Aside from occasional pruning and weeding, maintenance is minimal. Watering requirements are low, and can be met with simple irrigation systems. Xeriscape Plans | Denver Water Xeriscape landscaping promotes water efficiency by using plants that are native and adaptable to Colorado's semi-arid climate. Denver Water coined the word in 1981 by combining "landscape" and the Greek word "xeros," which means dry. Plants for Xeriscaping - Landscaping Network Native plants are a great choice for the xeric landscape. "Plants that are native to your area have already adapted to the local climate, and thus can tolerate the weather conditions much better than non-natives," says Rama Nayeri of Creations Landscape Design in Tustin, CA.

Xeriscaping Ideas - Landscaping Network Though all landscaping has the potential to bring people closer to nature, people with a xeriscape may find an even deeper connection to the world around them. As you become accustomed to the natural cycles of the native plants growing in your garden, you'll notice the same plants and cycles when you go out into parks and wild areas.
